Dear Educator,

The United States celebrates National Hispanic Heritage Month September 15–October 15. During this time, we recognize the contributions of Hispanic Americans to the United States and celebrate Hispanic culture. Having students share their own cultural traditions is a great way to start talking about the topic of culture and the way in which it impacts our world view. Students also develop a sense of pride when they have an opportunity to share the unique contributions of their culture. By expressing an interest in students’ culture, educators send a message that they respect and value diversity.

Please use this special Grammar Gallery lesson as part of your celebration of National Hispanic Heritage Month. Students will learn about Hispanic culture and also practice using simple present tense verbs.

Buena suerte!

Sincerely,
The Grammar Gallery Team

National Hispanic Heritage Month Facts

- During this period, we celebrate the histories, cultures, and contributions of people from Mexico, Spain, the Caribbean, and Central and South America.
- President Lyndon Johnson approved this celebration and President Ronald Reagan expanded it.
- This celebration begins on September 15 because that is the anniversary of independence of five Latin American countries—Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua—all of which declared independence in 1821.
- Mexico and Chile celebrate their independence days on September 16 and September 18, respectively.

The simple present tense is a verb tense that tells you an action or condition is happening in the present time, on a regular basis, or all the time. We use the present tense for three reasons:

1) to describe an action or condition that is happening right now
2) to indicate an action or condition that you do as a habit
3) to tell a general truth

National Hispanic Heritage Month starts on September 15.
Simple Present Tense: Positive

<th>Describe an action or condition happening now</th>
<th>Indicate an action or condition done as a habit</th>
<th>Tell a general truth</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First Person Singular (I)</td>
<td>I am in Mexico.</td>
<td>I eat at home every Sunday.</td>
<td>I speak Spanish.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Second Person Singular (you)</td>
<td>You are in Mexico.</td>
<td>You eat at home every Sunday.</td>
<td>You speak Spanish.</td>

Spelling Rules: Third person singular – he/she/it (positive)

- With most verbs, add –s to the end of the verb.

  Examples:

  - read \(\rightarrow\) reads
  - help \(\rightarrow\) helps

- With verbs that end with –sh, –ch, –ss, and –x, add –es to the end of the verb.

  Examples:

  - brush \(\rightarrow\) brushes
  - watch \(\rightarrow\) watches

- With verbs that end with a consonant + –y, change the –y to –i and add –es.

  Examples:

  - cry \(\rightarrow\) cries
  - study \(\rightarrow\) studies

- The verbs have, go, and do are irregular in the third person singular.

  Examples:

  - have \(\rightarrow\) has
  - go \(\rightarrow\) goes
  - do \(\rightarrow\) does
